

THE BOURBON NEWS

Established 1871—41 Years of Continuous Publication

Published Every Tuesday and Friday
Per Year $2.00—6 Months $1.00
Payable Cash in Advance.

SWIFT CHAMP, Editor and Owner.
(Entered at the Paris, Kentucky,
Postoffice as Mail Matter of the Second Class.)

OUR FOREIGN REPRESENTATIVES.
New York—American Press Association.
Chicago—Lord & Thomas.
Philadelphia—N. W. Ayers & Son.
Atlanta—Massengale Adv. Agency.
Cincinnati—Blaine-Thompson Co.
Louisville—Lowman-Mullican Co.

ADVERTISING RATES
Display Advertisements, $1.00 per inch for first time; 50 cents per inch each subsequent insertion.
Reading Notices, 10 cents per line each issue; reading notices in black type, 20 cents per line, each issue.
Cards of thanks, calls on candidates, obituaries and resolutions and similar matter, 10 cents per line.
Special rates for large advertisements and yearly contracts.
The right of publisher is reserved to decline any advertisement or other matter for publication.
Announcements for political offices must invariably be accompanied by the cash.
Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person, firm or corporation which may appear in the columns of THE BOURBON NEWS will be gladly corrected if brought to the attention of the editor.

EDITORIAL FLINGS

How much of joy can be given by so small a thing as writing one kindly letter a week to someone who is in trouble, sadness or perplexity.

A Kentucky judge has ruled that a man cannot let his girl sit in his lap while they are in an automobile. But, say, man, suppose that man has nothing to say about it?

A Paris man says that if anyone should try to read all the magazines published he would need a three hundred hour day. And we feel constrained to add that he will also occupy the strong ward in the Lexington Hospital for The Insane.

Housework is said to be an infallible cure for neurasthenia and for hysterical women, according to a prominent Paris physician. But it seems that a bunch of hysterical people prefer having hysterics to undertaking the responsibilities of managing a household.

"The dim mauve-tinted mountains, hazy in the distance, dreaming, lazy with the burden of a million years, brown cheeks furrowed with the rainy tears of Nature giving birth to centuries gone—and all the world keeps moving on and on." Gee; but it's hard to have to wake up and wonder what all that kind of stuff was about and where you heard it!

A man can have no ambition more worthy than to win the love of children. If a youngster finds out that you are worthy of his or her love, you cannot be wholly a failure. And they are certain to show in a very short time whether they like you or not. Gruffness or unkindness soon finds them ready to resent it, and they have a trick of remembering it, too, in after years.

During the height of the festivities Halloween night a big touring car, with blinds closely drawn, stood on the outskirts of the parking space on the Bank Row side of the court house. Alone in its position, lights out, there came a sound of muffled voices from the interior, barely audible above the din from the big crowd surging around. The occupants had chosen a strategic position, as the big machine was flanked on all sides by unoccupied machines. But why all the mystery, on such a festive night. Various were the conjectures, but as the blinds were on the inside, the mystery went unsolved.

A little mechanism called a "telechronometer" will measure the amount of time that a person spends in using the telephone. If that innocent little instrument would also show the amount of time some of the subscribers spend in trying to get central, it would be of some benefit all around.

Once in his younger years Emerson, rushing madly from a meeting that distressed him, and feeling a mighty anger in his heart, said that after a brief walk through the night he suddenly felt that the quiet stars were laughing at him and saying:

"Why so hot, little man." It would be well if all of us, now and then, might cool our distempered thoughts against "the eternal amplitudes." Our sudden passions and violence seldom change the moral order of the universe—which is well.

Why is it that so many Paris people who decline to believe in the Christian religion believe the barber who says he has a sure cure for falling hair and preventative of baldness?

Friend Guttman, of the Leader Store, is responsible for this one: Sampson had the right idea of advertising. He took a couple of columns and soon had everything coming his way.

The man who smooths a wrinkle into a smile; he who supplies a pleasant thought when one is wanted; who thus repairs and renews God's handiwork, counts with the truest of the world's benefactors.

Maude Adams, who is said to have perfected a device for showing movies in lighted theatres, will not be regarded as a benefactress by the many Paris boys and girls to whom the dimness of the movie theatre has been its charm, and their opportunity.

A California wine grower fell into one of his wine vats and was drowned in seven feet of wine. And there are plenty of dampfools in this Christian land who will be willing to assert that it was retribution, an act of God, instead of mere ordinary accident!

When a Paris man has his photo taken in a derby hat, there are just two possible explanations of his choice of head-covering. Either he knows that he would look well in any old sort of dome-protector or else he feels the need of lending dignity to the occasion.

American women would like to see stricken from the marriage ceremony the bride's promise to honor and obey, and inserted in its place the bridegroom's guarantee that he would hustle for the coin requisite for keeping the temperature of the house above seventy from October until May.

A Paris pedestrian who had eaten just the right things for his Sunday dinner dreamed during his after-dinner nap that he had been permitted to enter the Frankfort penitentiary on visitor's day and pound the faces of seventeen prisoners who had been sent up for life for running down pedestrians while driving automobiles when drunk.

There was a man in our town And he was wondrous wise; He labored every day and night His flivver to disguise. He put a brand-new body on And various kinds of toys, But all the neighbors knew it By the old familiar noise.

We have come to the conclusion that about as many "missing links" can be found on the golf links and on the floors of the ballrooms in this great country of ours as can be found in the jungles of Africa. And there are many to be found in other places, as well as these.

All nature smiles in golden fall. The goldenrod adorns the fields; Golden vines transform each wall, And golden harvest yields All nature smiles, the barns are full. Skies are soft, the crops are in; The jack-o-lantern cheers us all With expansive golden grin.

DYE OLD SKIRT COAT, DRESS IN DIAMOND DYES

Each package of "Diamond Dyes" contains decorations so simple any woman can dye or tint her worn, shabby dresses, skirts, waists, coats, stockings, sweaters, coverings, draperies, hangings, everything, even if she has never dyed before. Buy "Diamond Dyes"—no other kind—then perfect home dyeing is sure because Diamond Dyes are guaranteed not to spot, fade, streak, or run. Tell your druggist whether the material you wish to dye is wool or silk, or whether it is linen, cotton or mixed goods.

Cards. The calendar translation of playing cards is as follows: The total spots in a pack, 365—for the days in a year; the number of cards, 52—for the weeks in a year; the number of suits, 4—for the weeks in a month; the number of picture cards, 12—for the months of the year; the number of tricks, 13—for the weeks in a quarter.

Question Hard to Answer. Jud Tunkins says that a bird that can sing and won't sing must be made to sing, but how are you going to do it?

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL Sunday School Lesson

(By REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D. D., Teacher of English Bible in the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)
Copyright, 1922, Western Newspaper Union.

LESSON FOR NOVEMBER 5 JESUS THE GREAT PHYSICIAN

LESSON TEXT—Luke 4:31-44; 5:12-26.
GOLDEN TEXT—Himself took our infirmities, and bare our sickness.—Matt. 8:17.
REFERENCE MATERIAL—Matt. 9:35-38; Mark 1:21-45.
PRIMARY TOPIC—How a Sick Man Was Brought to Jesus.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus Healing the Paralytic.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Jesus' Power to Forgive Sin.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Jesus' Ministry to Human Need.

Since the topic sets forth Jesus as the Great Physician, it will be better for adult classes, especially, to take the larger text chosen by the committee and note the several outstanding cases of His healing. For some classes it will be better to study the one case of healing, namely, the healing of the paralytic.

I. Jesus Healing a Demoniac (4:31-37). While engaged in teaching in the synagogue He was interrupted by a man who had an unclean spirit. Jesus rebuked the demon and compelled him to come out of the man. This healing shows Jesus not only gracious, but powerful to set free the whole brood of diabolical passions, such as lust, envy, anger and jealousy which rule men.

II. Jesus Heals a Woman of a Great Fever (vv. 38-39). Peter's mother-in-law was prostrate with a great fever. They of Peter's household besought Jesus for her. Jesus rebuked the fever and it left her so that she immediately rose and ministered unto them. No earthly physician had ever been known to heal in that way. Divine healing is immediate and complete. We should distinguish between divine healing and faith healing. Faith healing is the result of the action of the mind upon the body and is measured by the degree of the faith, while divine healing is the action of the power of God upon the diseased one, and is always complete and immediate, because it is measured by the power of the Healer, God. His fame spread abroad and many sick of divers diseases were brought unto Him and He healed them all, even casting out demons and forbidding them to testify of Him.

III. Jesus Heals a Leper (5:12-16). Leprosy was a most loathsome and terrible disease. Because of its foulness one afflicted therewith was an outcast. The disease was incurable by man, therefore the leper was regarded as hopeless and dead. In response to the leper's earnest request Jesus touched him and bade the leprosy to depart, and immediately he was healed and cleansed. Leprosy is a type of sin. Jesus has power to heal and cleanse and restore.

IV. Jesus Heals a Paralytic (5:17-26). 1. Watched by the Pharisees and Doctors (v. 1). Jesus' fame spread abroad, and this only incited jealousy on the part of these men. 2. The Paralytic Brought (vv. 18, 19). This is a fine lesson in Christian service. They could not heal the man, but could bring him to Jesus, who could heal and restore. They had faith in Jesus to heal him. No effort which is required to bring a sinner to Jesus should be regarded as too great.

3. The Man's Sins Forgiven (v. 20). Jesus looked back of the palsy to its cause—sin. All disease and death is the result of sin. Jesus saw the faith of those not only who brought him, but of the man himself. 4. The Purpose of Miracles (vv. 21, 22). The Pharisees accused Christ of blasphemy when He declared the man's sins forgiven. Jesus showed them that back of the beneficent deed to the man was the demonstration of His deity. The main purpose in the working of miracles is the authentication of the divine mission of the one performing them. The working of the miracle was to demonstrate His authority to atone for sin and to grant forgiveness. While the divine power and authority are thus shown, the wisdom and love of God are shown in that in all cases the supernatural work is for the good of the individual. A true miracle is never spectacular. It is not merely a demonstration of power, but the working of power for beneficent ends, the good of some one in need.

5. Relative Value of Physical Ills and Moral and Spiritual Maladies (v. 23). Physical ill is less serious than the sins which cause them. In dealing with them we should follow the example of Christ and first deal with the cause.

Self-Love. Self-love is a cup without any bottom; you might pour all the great lakes into it and never fill it up.—O. W. Holmes.

A Thought for Today. Who art thou that judgest another man's servant? To his own master he standeth or falleth.—Romans 14:4.

The Lord Knoweth. The Lord knoweth our frame and knoweth that we are dust.—Ps.

DYE MIND THE TIME

When These Things Happened In Paris, As Told in THE NEWS' Files?

DAYS OF AULD LANG SYNE

There's no denying that to most of us there is a certain satisfaction in reviewing the events of long ago, as they are presented to us, either casually or by force of some reminiscence strain of the moment. And to those who lived here in the long ago the recalling of events in the old days of Paris affords a peculiar satisfaction all its own. They, perhaps, more than we who have grown used to the old place, will appreciate these items, taken at random from a copy of THE BOURBON NEWS, of Wednesday, March 9, 1881:

Capt. Dan Turney, of Paris, went to Georgia on Friday last, with two car loads of Missouri stock. Eld. John Sweeney preached Sunday, from "The Great War on Internal Improvements," consequently many were deceived who expected "railroad racket."

Rev. L. H. Blanton, of Central University, passed down the road Friday evening last, to be present at a protracted meeting in Augusta.

Joe Emmett made a short stay in Louisville, on account of being afraid of getting a taste of Bourbon whiskey.

The popular actress, Miss Katie Putnam, with an excellent troupe, will appear in Paris, next Friday evening.

Julia Hunt is playing to large houses in Mississippi, and will return to Kentucky in a few days, and will take in the Blue Grass region.

Frank Lewis is dangerously ill with inflammatory rheumatism, and recovery doubtful.

Mrs. Harriet Whitson, of Ruddles Mills, was adjudged a lunatic here on Monday, and sent to the asylum for the sixth time.

Hanson Penn Diltz, editor of the Cynthiana Democrat, pieced five quilt squares, each containing forty hexagon pieces the size of a nickel, on Sunday last, to present to some lady friends.

James Bryan, of Covington, was in town Monday. He is just out of a spell of illness, and is a candidate for the State's Senate, from Kenton county, and will no doubt win, as he should.

James Fothergill, of Winchester, a brother of Edward and Charlie, types of the Kentuckian office, took morphine, on Monday, with suicidal intent, and was in a dying condition late Monday afternoon. Later—Dead.

Edwin Bedford will raise twenty-five acres of turnips next summer for his sheep during the winter. This will no doubt counterbalance the bad effects of feeding grain, from which so many sheep have recently died.

A country correspondent of the Mason County Journal, signed the nom de plume, "One-eyed Bull." He had better try and see 'eifer he can't steer clear of such ox-citing names. Vasco D. Brown, editor of The Central Bulletin, at Lancaster, says: "After a tough scuffle, I have succumbed to the inevitable, and The Central Bulletin is numbered among the things that were. I am dead broke. I want a position and want it badly."

A NEWS reporter stumbled up against Keller Thomas, in Paris. Monday, inquired the news, received the answer, "I've been in the distillery all winter and have heard nothing. I'm coming out now in a few days to talk horse talk. I've got the best horse in Bourbon."

Matt Kenney shot and broke the wing of a large gray eagle, on Friday last, on Will Ferguson's place, that measured 7 feet 4 inches from tip to tip. This bird should have been at Washington, on that day, hovering around the dear lovers of National Liberties, instead of carrying off Mr. Ferguson's lambs.

Wm. Howse and Mitchell Daisy, of Illinois, two jovial old widowers who entertained an old grudge against each other, met at the house of a prominent widow lady, of the Paris precinct, a few days ago, where Mr. D. proceeded to cane Mr. H. in fine style, with a $50 cane, which, of course, Mr. H. took, by resenting with a smile and tip of the hat.

Mrs. E. B. Boyd, of Carlisle, has had a severe case of the "old folks' measles, and was unable to even smile or speak beyond a whisper, until she received her copy of the BOURBON NEWS last week. She had to make her husband stop reading to her, for she—she couldn't bear to laugh while so ill. It is strange, too, that Mrs. B. only had the "young folks' measles only two years ago.

On April 9th, the question of submitting a proposition to the county, whether or not the people will vote $100,000 taxes to aid in building the Frankfort, North Middletown and Mt. Sterling railroad. $25,000 will be required when the road is completed to Paris; $25,000 when completed to North Middletown; $25,000 when completed to Mt. Sterling, and the remaining $25,000 when completed to the coal fields. A question is also pending, too, whether or not the K. C. road will extend from Paris to Winchester and Richmond, on through to Tennessee. It is quite likely that this road will only ask the right of way granted them through the county. If people of the county would consult their own interests, no matter how isolated from Paris, the destined Indianapolis of the Blue-grass section, they would not throw a straw in the way of the erection of either of the two roads. The more railroads, the more life and competition, manufacturing, fewer pauper counties, more wealth, not only for the county, but the State.

"A Millersburg mule has been discovered by the Bourbon Sun that won't eat but once a day, and forty ears of corn and hay in proportion, makes his daily meal. He won't leave a coal car unless something is put in the cart, nor will he stop at the scales with a dray load of lumber, or pass the scales with a cart load of coal."

The Louisville Post credits the above item to the Sun instead of THE NEWS, and Bruce Champ is mad because he is robbed of the credit, while we are hotter than a skillet, to think there is a newspaper man in Kentucky that don't know we always tell the truth. No sir, Mr. Post, the Sun is a truthful paper, and whenever you see anything like the above, credit it to Bruce Champ, "the Joe Mulhattan of the Blue Grass.—Bourbon Sun.

CAHAL BROS.

BARBER SHOP
4—WHITE BARBERS—4
Modern Equipment.
Expert and Polite Service
HOT AND COLD BATHS

FARMERS & TRADERS

BANK
PARIS, KY.

Began Business Jan. 3, 1916

CAPITAL
$60,000.00
SURPLUS
$26,000.00

OFFICERS
Frank P. Kiser, President
S. L. Weather, Vice President
W. W. Mitchell, Cashier
Jno. W. Yerkes, Asst. Cashier
Dan Reed, Jr., Bookkeeper...

JUNE 30, 1921

Try Us With That Next Job!
We Print Anything Any Time
All Work Delivered On Time
THE NEWS JOB DEPARTMENT

We Handle All Kinds of Electrical Novelties

Electric Washing Machines, Irons, Toasters, Broilers, Chafing Dishes, Electroliers, All Kinds of Bulbs, Etc.

Gas Heaters

All Sizes and Prices. Gas Logs and Grates That are Very Practical and Ornamental.

T. W. SPICER
MAIN STREET
OPP. COURT HOUSE

FOR RENT

Four room cottage on Virginia avenue; gas and electric lights; water in front yard. Large stable. Immediate possession. Apply to JAKE ELVOVE, 1st Home Phone 360 or 198.

Administrator's Notice!

All persons having claims against the estate of Richard Strother, deceased, are hereby requested to present same, properly proven, as required by law, to the undersigned Administrator, for adjustment and payment.

All persons knowing themselves indebted in any way to the estate of the said Richard Strother, are hereby notified to call on the undersigned Administrator and make full and prompt settlement of such indebtedness. NEWTON STROTHER, Administrator of Richard Strother. (10-1mo)

INTERURBAN TIME TABLE

Paris to Lexington	Lexington to Paris
7:05 a. m.	6:00 a. m.
8:05 a. m.	7:00 a. m.
9:05 a. m.	8:00 a. m.
10:05 a. m.	9:00 a. m.
11:05 a. m.	10:00 a. m.
12:05 p. m.	11:00 a. m.
1:05 p. m.	12:00 p. m.
2:05 p. m.	1:00 p. m.
3:05 p. m.	2:00 p. m.
4:05 p. m.	3:00 p. m.
5:05 p. m.	4:00 p. m.
6:05 p. m.	5:00 p. m.
7:05 p. m.	6:00 p. m.
8:15 p. m.	7:00 p. m.
10:05 p. m.	9:10 p. m.
11:55 p. m.	11:00 p. m.

Cash Fare, 60c; Ticket Fare, 54c. Commutation 52 trip monthly book, $12.00. Tickets, single trip, or in quantities, date unlimited, sold between all points at reduced rates.

KENTUCKY TRACTION & TERMINAL CO. (dec6-tr)

Just History

In '76
The Colonial Dame
Spun her cloth
By Candle flame.

In 1860
In Crinoline bright,
She greeted her guests
By Coal Oil light.

And later on,
How time does pass
Her home was lit
By flickering Gas.

But the girl of to-day
Who wants her home bright,
Just presses a button
And has Electric light.

Paris Gas & Electric Co. (Incorporated)